Services for the Portuguese.

The preaching services for the Portuguese at the Armory were well attended, both morning and afternoon. Rev. Mr. Peris preached in the morning from the text "What think ye of Christ?" and in the afternoon from the text "Search the Scriptures." Sixty to seventy Portuguese joined in reading the Scripture lessons and singing the hymns printed on the programmes. It was gratifying to see that so large a por tion of the audience was composed of young men, from 17 to 22 years of age. They are interested in the plans for their social improvement, the free reading room, lessons, loan library and other such methods for advancement in knowledge and attainments.

The markets in America and Europe are steady and firm. No changes of rate are reported in San Francisco. During the past two months the world's supply of beet sugar has been disappearing with rapidity, and cane sugar supplies have been also reduced to a low point, due to the increased consumption, and prices have consequently hardened. Prospects for the next crop are good, but the probable changes in the tariff make the course of the market in this country uncertain.

The Tariff Bill. The Conference Committee on the Mc-Kinley Tariff Bill has just settled down to work, and its report may be expected to be completed as early as possible. The bill if signed goes into effect October 1st, and the sugar schedule and reciprocity features are as follows: As now constructed the bill provides that the exemptions from duty of sugar, molasses, coffee, tea and hides provided for in this act are made with a view to secure reciprocal trade with countries producing these articles; and for this purpose on and after the first of July, 1891, whenever and so often as the President shall be satisfied that the government of any country producing and exporting sugar. molasses, coffee, tea and hides, raw and uncured, or any of such articles, imposes duties or other exactions upon the agricultural or other products of the United States, which, in view-of the free introduction of such sugars, molasses, coffee, tea and hides into the United States, he may deem to be reciprocally unequal and unjust, he shall have the power, and it shall be his duty, to suspend by proclamation to that effect the provisions of this act relating to the free introduction of such sugars, molasses, coffee, tea and hides, the production of such country, for such time as he shall deem just; and in such case, and during such suspension, duties shall be levied, collected and paid upon sugars, molasses, coffee, tea and hides, the product of or exported from such designated country as follows:

All sugars not above No. 13 Dutch standard in color shall pay duty upon their polariscopic test as follows: All not above No. 13 Dutch standard in color, all tank bottoms, syrups of cane juice or beet juice, melada, concentrated melada, concrete and concentrated molasses, testing by the polariscopic not above 75 degrees, seven-tenths of one cent per pound, and for every additional degree or fraction of a degree, two-hundredths of one per cent. per pound additional. All sugars above No. 13 Dutch standard in color shall be classified by the Dutch standard of color, and pay duty as follows: All sugar above No. 13 and not above No. 16, 13% cents per pound; above 16 and not above 20, 15 cents; all above 20, 2 cents.

Molasses, testing about 56 degrees, 4 cents per gallon; sugar drainings and sugar sweepings shall be subject to duty either as molasses or sugar, as the case may be, according to the polariscopid

On coffee 3 cents per pound.

On tea 10 cents per pound. Hides, raw or cured, whether dry, salted or pickled, Angora goat skins, raw, without the wool, unmanufactured or raw asses' skins, and skins, except sheep skins, with the wool on, 112, cents per pound.

The Senate and House conferrers have agreed on the reciprocity feature. The passage of the sugar tariff appears to be quite another matter, and there is certain to be a long harangue over it. In the meantime shares in the sugar companies are driven around as if by the wind.

Personal Mention.

Hon. and Mrs. William G. Irwin of Honolulu, accompanied by Mrs. Irwin's mother, Mrs. Ivers, have gone East. In New York they will be joined by Miss Aileen Ivers, who has been spending the past year with Eastern friends.

John D. Spreckels has been appointed on the Republican county committee. Capt. Robertson, the "Ocean Dude," late of the brig Consuelo, has gone into the ranching business.

Capt. H. G. Morse of the Alameda officiated as referee at the regatta held on the Admission Day celebration on the 8th, and gave great satisfaction. He was presented with beautifully engrossed testimonial of appreciation.

Oceanic Mail Contract.

A dispatch from Wellington, N. Z. dated the 15th, says: The House of Representatives has approved the renewal for one year of the contract for carrying the mail between New Zealand and San Francisco.

Robert J. Creighton, the agent in this city for the New Zealand Government stated in regard to the above dispatch that he believed the New Zealand Legislature had authorized the Postmaster-General to make a contract for a one year extension of the service conditioned upon the United States' Government contributing half the ocean subsidy, and giving free railway transportation to the British-Colonial mail across the Amer-ican continent. Mr. Creighton's cable dispatches from New Zealand made these conditions absolute, and he presumed the government had submitted resolutions asking authority to make a contract on that basis. The fact that Australia had withdrawn from the American mail route absolutely would throw the entire cost upon New Zealand unless the United States contributed an equitable amount of the ocean subsidy and relieved the colony of the cost of railroad transportation also. The 12th was the day set in the House for the consideration of the subsidy and ship bounty bills, but on that day no quorum was present. It has been impossible to get a quorum since then. On that day, however, before the adjournment chairman Bingham on the Post-office Committee of the House introduced a half-hearted resolution authorizing the Postmaster-General to reduce the Australia to England in transit across system at that time.

this country. This was done to induce the Colonies to continue the service. The chances are that nothing will be done until Congress can consider the subsidy bill.

Blaine on Reciprocity.

Blaine is as active as ever in working for reciprocity with South and Central America and Mexico, notwithstanding that his point has been carried by the House and Senate Conference Committee. He evidently wants to grind the argument deep into the mind of the American people. In the course of a letter to Colonel Clapp, of the Boston Journal, he says, after referring to the immense duties charged by Cuba on flour:

"In view of these facts, is it possible that a protectionist Congress can even think of opening our markets to Cuba's products free, while allowing the great Western industry to be absolutely excluded from her markets by a prohibitory tariff? With reciprocity, the West can annually sell many hundred thousand barrels of flour in Cuba and Porto Rico, together with a large mass of other agri-cultural products. Without reciprocity she will be driven more and more from these markets.

"Giving the fullest protection to all Eastern interests as the proposed tariff bill does, surely no man of good judgment, certainly no protectionist of wise forecast, wishes to expose a Western interest to serious injury, especially when it is manifestly easy to protect and promote it-manifestly easy because at this very time Boards of Trade, Chambers of Commerce, and public opinion in Havana are demanding reciprocal trade with the United States.

"Certain wise men ask: How can we sell farm products in South America when the same things are produced there! Cereals are undoubtedly grown in the southernmost portions of South America. But wise men will remember that cereals and sugar do not grow in the same soil, and that the sugar countries of South and Central America and the West Indies contain 40,000,000 of people who import the largest part of their breadstuffs. Indeed, the largest portion of the sugar product of Latin America is at our doors, and we can greatly enlarge our exchanges there if Congress will give us an opportunity for reciprocal trade.

"Another class observe that they want time to study the system. To this I might reply that the best method of studying a system is to observe its practical workings. While studying in the abstract and refusing to take some object lesson, these gentlemen propose to open our market to Latin-American products free of all charge, without asking the Latin-Americans to give in return some freedom in their markets. The object lesson immediately before us is the treatment of the sugar question. Shall we make the Latin-Americans the gift of that trade? When we have studied that lesson we shall be prepared for a second.

"The worst proposition of all is put forth by those who say: 'Let us put sugar on the free list now, and next year take up the subject of reciprocity.' If I understand their logic, it is to make sugar free this year without condition, and next year to ask Spain if she will not kindly consent to grant us reciprocal Holding the complete vantage trade. ground themselves, the proposed policy transfers the vantage ground to Spain. Those who take this ground belong to a class of careful guardians of property, who prepare a strong lock for the stable after the horse is gone.

"I do not mean in anything I have said to imply that reciprocity is or Western interest. It will prove beneficial and profitable both to the farm and the shop. Many of the forms in which our business interests will be promoted by reciprocity cannot be known until the active commercial men of the United States have developed those forms by investigation and experience. We shall not realize full benefit of the policy in a day or a year. But shall we, therefore, throw away countless millions of trade in addition to the sixty millions we have already thrown away, and then ignorantly declare, without trial, that the system won't work?

"Finally, there is one fact that should have great weight, and especially with the protectionists. Every free-trader in the Senate voted against reciprocity. The free-trade papers throughout the country are showing a determined hostility to it. "It is evident that the free-trade Senators and the free-trade papers have a specific reason for their course. They know and feel that with a system of reciprocity established and growing, their policy of free trade receives a most serious blow. The protectionist who opposes reciprocity in the form in which it is now presented, knocks away one of the strongest supports of his system. The enactment of reciprocity is the safeguard of protection. The defeat of reciprocity is the opportunity of free-trade."

The Pacific Cable.

The Pacific Coast Board of Commerce convened on the 17th instant, and sessions were held on the 17th, 18th, 19th and 20th. Addresses were made by M. M. Estee on "Reciprocity," J. F. Chapman on ship bounties, and Hugh Craig, of the New Zealand Insurance Company, made a report on the Trans-Pacific

Other papers of interest to the Coast only were read. The Board passed a resolution asking the Inter-State Com-merce Commission to permit the railroads to make any rates they choose on goods shipped in any trans-Pacific country to any American point. This is designed to enable the Pacific steamship lines to meet the competition with the Suez Canal steamers.

A resolution in favor of the Trans-Pacific cable, and asking Congress to appropriate $106,000 for preliminary surveys and soundings was adopted.

The Cholera.

Cholera is continuing in its spread in Japan with frightful rapidity. In Tokio the cases have gone up to about a hundred a day with over 50 percentage of deaths. The scarcity of food drives the poorer people in many cases to live on food picked up from scavenger piles. Warning against eating fish has been of no avail among these classes. The disease has infested the harbor of Yokohama, and one of the marines on the U. S. S. Omaha died from it. A Turkish frigate has had thirty-six cases on board and twelve deaths. The total number of cases in the country up to August 25th, was 8,310, of which 4,862 ended fatally.

The disease is prevalent in Shanghai and the north of China, the natives dying by hundreds, and several Europeans have succumbed to it. That it makes such terrible ravages among the Chinese is due to their mode of living.
